

MARGARET
PAGE

Success is a beautiful thing.

Business Etiquette,
Team Dynamics &
Cultural Intelligence Coach

Fact

There are real, tangible costs when team dynamics, cultural intelligence, and communication break down.

Together, let's create positive and profitable change, shall we?

What Do I Do?

I equip leaders, teams and individuals with the essential skills, strategies and support to be more professional and impactful in the boardroom, networking room or dining room.

Who I serve

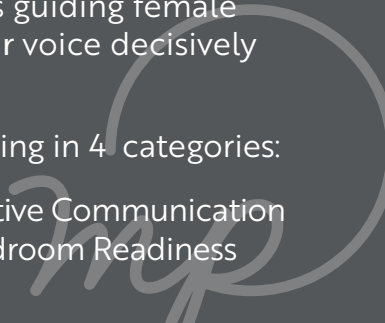

Experienced and emerging leaders and executives.

From emerging leaders to high-level executives, I work with people who are committed to making a positive impact in the workplace. I provide the tools for executives to become the best version of themselves in their leadership roles with confidence, clarity and creativity.

Leaders running for or in office

I have supported numerous men and women in preparing for government campaigns and positions, including sponsoring Women's Campaign School. My passion is guiding female leaders in finding and using their voice decisively and effectively.

I offer coaching, training & speaking in 4 categories:

- Team Dynamics
 - Cultural Intelligence
 - Effective Communication
 - Boardroom Readiness
-

Core Results

Get over your fears

With me as your coach, you will learn to face your fears and develop the critical skills you need to lead with integrity, confidence and clarity.

Find your voice

Through my effective communication techniques and etiquette training, you will speak openly, respectfully and firmly so you motivate and inspire the people and organizations you lead.

Become more influential

I guide you in identifying your aspirations and equip you with the personal and professional growth tools required to be more influential.

My Background

Designations & credentials

I have a proven track record of success as a coach and consultant for both emerging and high-powered CEOs and leaders in or running for office.

I hold multiple coaching and protocol designations from Protocol School of Washington, CoachU, the University of Pennsylvania, the Gottman Institute, Matrix Essential Training Alliance, the Cultural Intelligence Center, Body Language Institute and the National Association of Parliamentarians.

I am certified in Corporate Etiquette and International Protocol, Neuro-Linguistic Programming, Conflict Resolution and Personal and Executive Coaching.

My Experience

A track record of success

- 30+ years experience as a successful business owner
- President of Toastmasters International 2021-22
- Nominated for RBC Canadian Women Entrepreneur Trailblazer Award
- Experienced Board Member

Extensive knowledge

My background, experience and voracious desire to learn makes me eclectic in my knowledge. I excel at finding solutions to challenges using a wide variety of skills, strategies and psychological tools. I'm passionate about team dynamics, executive presence and supporting others in stepping into their full potential. My genuine curiosity and firm belief in people allows me to connect more deeply and offer a higher level of support which culminates in tangible results.

My Story

What inspires me to lead others

I know what it feels like to be a successful leader who lacks the confidence to rise and speak up. Years ago, after reaching a high level of business success, I was asked to speak at a conference. I declined. I had a team of driven individuals who worked so hard to achieve being ranked the #1 franchise in the region. I had failed them and let them down. That day changed the course of my life and led me to rise, face my fears and use my voice.

We all have the ability to lead once we face our fears, find our voice and step into our full potential. My purpose and mission is to support leaders in confidently rising in their roles so they can bring out the best in others and make a positive impact in the organizations they serve.

Client Love

“

The Surrey Board of Trade continues to utilize the skills and intelligence of Margaret Page because she excels in providing quality, articulate and meaningful advice and coaching to businesses and individuals to advance their business and interpersonal skills. The Learning Labs and the Women’s Mastermind initiatives have supported a number of businesses to excel in achieving their bottom line and supporting their workforce.

– Anita Huberman, CEO, Surrey Board of Trade

“

I didn’t know how much I didn’t know. Margaret taught me so much in such a short time. Knowledgeable and always fun, Margaret made the coaching session interactive, interesting, and highly rewarding. Dinners won’t be the same.

– Flavio Mikami

“

Margaret is an amazingly caring coach! She helped me create order out of the chaos of my thoughts by teaching me to structure my calendar focusing on areas of my vision rather than on tasks. She also reminds me how special I am and reminds me to remind myself! I do this by writing affirmations on my mirror and reading them at least twice a day. These and many other practical tips have truly enriched my personal and professional life.

– Veronica Armstrong, President, Veronica Armstrong Law Corporation

More at www.MargaretPage.com

Hire Margaret Page today.

604 741 1866
margaret@margaretpage.com
www.margaretpage.com

Success is a beautiful
thing.

Book Your Complimentary Call

Margaret has appeared in several media channels, including:

